Transport

Australian Christians acknowledges that the cost of transport is an important part of any household and business budget and supports the timely development of a safe and sustainable public transport system in keeping with the rapid development of our cities.

We believe that alternative fuels should be developed to give Australia less vulnerability to international price shocks.

It is important that cycle ways and facilities for cyclists continue to be improved and that planning laws encourage property developers to have an allocation for cycle bays, in a similar way that a certain number of car bays are demanded according to the scope of a project.
